

Since going on the “do not call list” the aggravating telemarketing calls have been greatly reduced. I am now more comfortable about answering the telephone. Whereas, before, I just did not answer it and everyone had to leave a message. IT is a good law and should not be weakened.